

Lots more about the Renaissance Faire

T-shirt Contest Winner

Hearty felicitations and a loud huzzah to Teresia Harwell, winner of St. Francis Church's very first RenFaire T-shirt Design Contest. Many thanks to all of you who voted, and to Gail Young and Amy Johnson, the contest runners-up. (If for some reason Teresia's design is unable to...never mind.) Look for her design (below) on a beautiful shirt just as soon as the Planning Guild settles on a t-shirt printer we can afford. Plan to stock up for friends and family—this will be a collector's item one day!

New Cookbook for the Faire

The Renaissance Faire is coming, and along with that the Newcomer Ministry Team plans to publish a new and revised cookbook for 2010, The Pleasant Peasant Cookbook. It will cost $15 and be available for sale the weekend of the Faire.

For those who need costume help

Need something to help you wind down after the Christmas rush? Worried about making your costume for the Renaissance Faire? We have just the thing for you.

Amy Johnson and I will make ourselves available on December 28, 29, and 30, 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., for anyone who would like help making their Faire costume. The time of day will be completely up to you—it could be all day and into the evening if you want, all three days or only one day.

The Bernina Store at Hancock Fabrics on Bandera Road (at Huebner) has agreed to lend us their classroom and three sewing machines for these days. If you do not have fabric, you can choose from their large collection. Amy and I also have a small stash of fabric that you can use (first come, first served). Need a pattern? You can borrow one of ours or purchase your own from Hancock. You also get a chance to try out one of three new Bernina machines. What a deal—we're so pleased to have Bernina as a sponsor!

If you're interested, please call either Amy (558-6419) or me as soon as possible. The first three people who call and need to use the store machines get to use them. All others will need to bring their own machines. If you needed some hand-holding on this project, you've got it!

Don't forget: The first-ever St. Francis Renaissance Faire will be Saturday, March 6, 2010, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. The next day there will be an authentic Elizabethan Mass at 10 a.m. Start inviting your friends and coworkers!

All recipes must be submitted by e-mail only. There is a special e-mail address already set up, pleasantpeasantcookbook@gmail.com. We will make no additions to your recipe once you have e-mailed it, and a separate group will proofread them. Should there be any questions about directions and ingredients, we'll contact you for confirmation or corrections.

So let's have some fun and see what we can come up with. You can be sure Father Patrick will be submitting some of his epicurean specialties!
